A TRAUMA INFORMED VIEW APPLIED TO SUPERVISING STAFF IN A SHELTER ENVIRONMENT

The social service sector is recognizing the impact of trauma on the lives of service users. Supervisors are not only becoming proficient in their understanding of trauma informed care but ensuring trauma informed care principles translate to management practices. Greater service outcomes and overall organizational health are reported when there is a correlation between trauma informed care with service users that are reflected in policies, procedures and supervisory practice. In this workshop, we will overview trauma and the complexities of delivering and sustaining trauma informed views in the shelter system.

Learning Objectives:

- Awareness of trauma including identification, prevalence and impact
- Consideration of trauma informed principles in relation to prior care models
- Strategies for creating trauma informed workplaces
- Considerations of health in relation to the complexities of trauma

TARGET GROUP: Executive Director, Managers & Supervisors

All supervisors taking this course must have taken previous Trauma Informed training and be familiar with Trauma Informed principles of care.

AGING AND HOMELESSNESS PART 1

The number of Older Homeless Adults in Toronto is said to have doubled since 2009. Sadly, it is not uncommon to find homeless people who are 80 or even 90 years old. In fact, expert opinion advises that homeless individuals age at a faster rate than those who are housed. For Older Adults in general, there are many myths and ageist attitudes that complicate their well-being. For Homeless Older Adults, these challenges and misunderstandings are even more complicated. This workshop is the first of two on Homeless Older Adults. In it, participants will learn about the physical, mental, emotional, and, social, changes and challenges faced by all Older Adults and by Homeless Older Adults in particular. The connection between age-related changes and challenges on Mental Health and Addictions will be considered. The impact of Ageism on Older Homeless Adults will be a focus. Participants will be encouraged to examine their own beliefs and attitudes about Aging and consider how they can become advocates for, and allies to, Older Homeless Adults. Participants will reflect on their own agencies and consider ways in which they can best meet the needs of Older Homeless Adults.

Learning Objectives:

After the workshop, participants will:

- Understand the normal aging process.
- Understand how the aging process affects homeless individuals.
- Understand the intersection of aging and mental health and addictions.
- Understand the impact of ageism on both older adults and older homeless adults.
- Consider how their agencies can adapt to best serve older homeless adults.

TARGET GROUP: All

AGING AND HOMELESSNESS PART 2

Older homeless adults are often struggling with multiple and intersecting challenges and losses – those that come naturally with age and those that are exacerbated by the unique challenges of being homeless in later life. This workshop focuses on the needs of Older Adults including: loss, grief, and, trauma. Also discussed will be the developmental needs of the Older Adults. Participants will learn the best practices for supporting Older Adults including the key role Story-telling can play. The issue of Elder Abuse will be discussed. Lessons from the first workshop will be considered to determine the best approach workers and their agencies can take in supporting and advocating for Older Homeless Adults. Participants will also receive information on supports and resources available to Older Adults including: Income supports and Advocates such as The Advocacy Centre for the Elderly, The Toronto Police Service's Vulnerable Persons Coordinator, and, Long-term Care and Community Care Access Centre's.

Learning Objectives:

After the workshop, participants will:

- Develop an understanding of the emotional needs of older adults.
- Learn about best practices for working with older homeless adults.
- Learn about income supports for older adults.
- Learn about various resources for the older adult including: Long-term Care and Community Care Access Centre's.
- Learn about Elder Abuse and how to address it.

ANTI-RACISM/ ANTI-OPPRESSION

ANTI-RACISM/ANTI-OPPRESSION (INTRODUCTION)

This workshop is designed to introduce participants to the basic principles of Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression. Participants will have an opportunity to consider how oppression occurs and is maintained in society and within the organization. Participants will be challenged to consider the ways they can act, individually and collectively to address oppression, and become allies and advocates for people who are marginalized.

Learning Objectives:

- The participant will begin to develop skills for analyzing racism, and other forms of oppression.
- The participant will begin to understand the dynamics of privilege, power, oppression, and social location.
- The participant will begin to understand how his/her own social identities impact their interactions with clients and colleagues.
- The participant will understand that being a change agent and an ally is integral to the role of the Shelter system and social service worker.

TARGET GROUP: All

ADVANCED ANTI-RACISM/ ANTI-OPPRESSION

The Advanced ARAO course helps participants to deepen their understanding of how oppression and racism occur at a personal and structural level and how they are maintained. The course is also about assisting organizations with the change process toward equity. The focus is on the self, and the organizational change process.

Learning Objectives:

- The participants will develop a critical approach to addressing racism and other forms of oppression.
- The participants will consider the difference between personal and structural oppression.
- The participants will deepen their analysis of how racism and oppression play out in society and within their organization.

- The tools your Board can use to be effective.
- How to recognize and solve problems.
- Taking the longer view.

TARGET GROUP: Executive Directors and Board Members

BUILDING EFFECTIVE SKILLS TO ADDRESS ANTI-BLACK RACISM

This interactive workshop will provide tools and skills for staff to understand and effectively address issues of anti-Black racism as it impacts clients/residents and staff. The workshop utilizes an anti-oppression, equity-focused, asset-driven, trauma-informed framework, using the lens of anti-Black racism, violence and poverty.

The workshop will explore and unpack the impact of racial micro-aggressions, the pervasive continuum of poverty, isolation, violence, substance use, mental health problems and social isolation which all contribute to the level of homelessness, transience and hard- to- house realities for high numbers of African Canadians. Additionally, the complexities and dynamics of the community will be examined. This includes the emerging related issues in the Somali and East African parts of the community.

Finally, the workshop will identify the dimensions of trauma (as they impact on African Canadians- especially in the context of anti-Black racism, violence and poverty) and take participants through evidence-based options for developing effective trauma-informed approaches to healing and well-being, specific to the African Canadian community.

Learning Objectives:

- Enhance understanding and skills to work effectively with African Canadian- staff and clients/service users
- Build trauma-informed options for supporting African Canadians on their journey to healing and wellness
- Increase leadership skill level to effectively support and promote organizational changes that address anti Black racism and promote anti-oppression.
- Provide participants with relevant resources and tools to enhance work in the area.

TARGET GROUP: All

BUILDING LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT SKILLS TO EFFECTIVELY ADDRESS ANTI-BLACK RACISM

CASE MANAGEMENT

CASE MANAGEMENT (INTRODUCTION)

This training day is designed to strategize and share opportunities from a Case Management model in working with hard to serve clients. Participants will be required to bring their own professional expertise and case questions to the training day. Teaching is interactive, and all attendees will be required to participate. Learning Objectives: understanding what exactly case management is in the context of social services; the case management meeting: strategies and concerns; information sharing – what to edit? Documentation: goal setting and role of case management and advocacy – how to target.

Learning Objectives:

- The learner will develop an understanding what exactly is “case management” in the context of social services.

- A review of case management administration and system structure will be presented.
- Participants will develop new knowledge concerning documentation, goal setting, assessment and advocacy within a motivational framework for complex clients within the case management system.

TARGET GROUP: All

ADVANCED CASE MANAGEMENT

Building on the foundations of case management this course is designed to teach students more in-depth skills in designing and implementing case management within social service agencies. Specific challenges will be addressed such as interagency conflict, limited resources and advocacy. Participants are expected to bring case examples from their work to the class for discussion and analysis.

Learning Objectives:

- A quick review of case management principles will occur.
- In depth and specific plan design and challenges will be reviewed.
- Individual case challenges and process solutions will be worked through.
- Advanced intervention strategies such as Motivational Interviewing and CBT will be discussed.

TARGET GROUP: All

CHILDREN AND ADOLESCENCE BEHAVIOUR MANAGEMENT

This interactive workshop will provide participants with a more accurate understanding of the precipitating factors and causes of challenging and difficult behaviour in children and youth. Course outcomes will include: useful techniques for recognizing and responding to children with behavioural, social and emotional difficulties, as well as adapting programs to the special needs of children and families living in shelters. This workshop is designed for staff working directly with children and youth and will provide practical information and hands-on skills to enable you to respond to situations effectively. Topics to be discussed will include: theories and factors for presenting behaviours; looking beyond the behaviour; children and youth with special needs; techniques for the redirection and modification of disruptive or unsafe behaviour; use of consequences; and practical strategies for dealing with challenging behaviours.

Learning Objectives:

- Increase participant's understanding of the underlying causes of challenging behaviour.
- Increase participant's awareness of their impact on behaviour and acquire strategies to manage their presentation.
- Opportunity to acquire a variety of management strategies to support effecting changes in behaviour through positive means.
- Using understanding of an individual to plan your approach and strategy to effect positive changes in behaviour.

TARGET GROUP: Those Working with Children, Youth and Families

CO-CREATING PSYCHOLOGICAL SAFETY IN THE WORKPLACE

The goal of this session is to introduce the concept of psychological safety and to introduce a rationale as to why leaders in organizations need to pay attention to this quality when working towards creating healthy workplaces. While employers and workplaces typically have a good grasp on standards and legal duties to protect employee physical safety, there is limited awareness and understanding of their role in creating psychologically safe work environments. The goal of this workshop is to introduce and explore the concept of psychological safety as a key ingredient to effective and productive workplaces, and to offer senior leaders, managers and facilitators tools and processes they can use and adapt to help their work teams co-create a social environment where everyone's psychological well-being and mental health is protected and promoted.

Learning Objectives:

At the end of this program participants will be able to....

- Describe the importance of psychological safety as a critical ingredient contributing to effective and productive workplaces.
- Begin to formulate discussions (raise awareness) and introduce skills as advocates/role models of psychologically safe workplace practices and begin co-creating these environments with their colleagues and work groups.
- Apply three practical strategies that foster and support psychological safety.
- Experience the Circle process as a supportive social container to nurture and sustain psychological safety and apply to any social environment.

TARGET GROUP: Executive Directors, Managers, Supervisors, HR Managers & Front-Line Staff

COGNITIVE BEHAVIOURAL TECHNIQUES (CBT)

This workshop is designed as an introduction to evidence based Cognitive Behavioural Techniques that can be used in a variety of community based social service settings. Participants will learn how thinking affects one's behaviour and how cognitive behavioural interventions can provide tools for helpers to assist clients in a number of problem areas like addiction, depression and anxiety struggles. Through active learning, case examples and role play participants will be exposed to the theory of cognitive behavioural approaches, but more importantly will learn practical skills to use in their practice.

Learning Objectives:

- Learn the foundational knowledge that contributes to cognitive behavioural approaches.
- Practice through role play, cognitive behavioural techniques learned during the workshop.
- Develop a set of cognitive behavioural techniques and skills to use in their organizational setting.

TARGET GROUP: All

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES (AVAILABLE AS SELF-PACED ONLINE TRAINING ONLY)

Presenters from Toronto Public Health will discuss communicable diseases. Hepatitis, TB and STI's including HIV/AIDS will be discussed. Recommendations for protecting and promoting health for yourself and your clients will be explained. Harm Reduction Tools and Strategies will also be discussed as methods of communicable disease control.

Learning Objectives:

- Understand Hepatitis A, B and C and the basic concepts of infection prevention and control.
- Have timely and accurate information about the transmission, symptoms, and treatment of reportable Sexually Transmitted Infections.
- Be able to identify the difference between Latent TB Infection and Active TB Disease.
- Be able to identify Harm Reduction services that are available in Toronto.

TARGET GROUP: All

COMMUNITY WORKER SAFETY STRATEGIES

This one-day Community Worker Safety Strategy Program will introduce participants to practical safety strategies designed to maximize personal safety and minimize risk when working in unfamiliar or potentially dangerous community environments. The primary goal of this training program is to cultivate a higher degree of personal self-awareness and increase self-confidence when working on the street and or while visiting clients. With the increase in community-based services, this program will address specific and unique situational challenges faced by community workers who provide support in clients homes, parks, restaurants, alley ways and on the street.

Learning Objectives:

- Increase self-awareness regarding survival intuition and becoming fully present in potentially unsafe situations when working in the community.
- Challenge participants to embark upon a self-mastery pathway towards maximizing their professional and personal clarity around interpersonal boundaries when working with clients in the community.
- Introduce and develop practical strategies and tools to minimize the risk and maximize personal safety in potentially unsafe situations.
- Increase personal confidence and professional competency when working alone in potentially dangerous situations by identifying physical, psychological and emotional resources.
- Learn to assess the risk of opportunities of any neighbourhood or community setting.

TARGET GROUP: All

CONCURRENT DISORDERS

CONCURRENT DISORDERS PART 1

Many service providers struggle in working with clients who live with an addiction and mental health concern (concurrent disorder). This workshop will define the term concurrent disorder and review the historical development and knowledge base of the clinical literature. Participants will learn practical approaches in working with clients living with a concurrent disorder and are asked to bring cases from their own practice for discussion. This is an experiential workshop where participants will be asked to apply new knowledge to their own service centres.

Learning Objectives:

- Define and describe concurrent disorders and the subpopulations within concurrent disorders.
- Understand the prevalence and impact of concurrent disorders.
- Develop strategies for engagement and assessment of client to apply in their work.
- Understand the models to identify the relationship between concurrent addiction and mental health problems.

TARGET GROUP: All

CONCURRENT DISORDERS PART 2

In this workshop participants will review learning in Introduction Concurrent Disorders and build upon those skills while reviewing Best Practice Guidelines as outlined by Health Canada. Learning Goals will include: Defining concurrent disorders and integrated treatment; Best practice for Screening and Assessment Treatment for Co-occurring and the following: Mood and Anxiety, Persistent Mental Disorders, Personality Disorders and Eating disorders. Implications for the System Level.

Learning Objectives:

- Participants will review two evidence-based practices in working with concurrent disorders (CBT and Contingency Management).
- Participants will apply key concepts of both models through case discussion and role plays.
- Participants will acquire CBT and Contingency management skills to apply to their work environment.

TARGET GROUP: All

CONFLICT RESOLUTION AND NEGOTIATION SKILLS

CONFLICT RESOLUTION AND NEGOTIATION SKILLS (INTRODUCTION)

Conflict is inevitable in all workplaces, but the way in which it is handled will determine whether satisfactory outcomes are achieved, and positive relationships developed. Dealing ineffectively with conflict can cause tensions, increase stress in the work environment, and take up precious time. This practical workshop will provide an array of tools and techniques to add to your competence in negotiating and resolving conflicts. This workshop will help you: understand the dynamics of conflict escalation, make people feel heard, clarify situations for constructive dialogue, approach people and raise concerns in ways that won't lead to defensiveness and use principled negotiation to generate win-win solutions.

Learning Objectives:

- Able to express a concern in a respectful way and understand the principles of win-win conflict resolution.

TARGET GROUP: All

ADVANCED CONFLICT RESOLUTION AND NEGOTIATION SKILLS

This course will build on the learnings of the Conflict resolution and Negotiation Skills workshop. You will gain advanced skills and practice negotiating and resolving conflicts. This workshop will help you: look at the different types of conflict; use advanced negotiation skills and de-escalation skills with clients; and set boundaries effectively and manage conflicts between two clients. Additionally, it will help you build an understanding of the different ways people deal with conflict. We will look at how to reduce aggressive, passive, and passive-aggressive patterns in conflict situations and how to increase assertive and respectful interactions.

Learning Objectives:

- Understand five primary sources of conflict, and strategies to respond to each.
- Understand four different conflict styles and how to flex to different styles.
- Practice boundary setting and reducing escalating behaviours.
- Negotiating effectively with colleagues and with clients.

TARGET GROUP: All

EFFECTIVE CONFLICT RESOLUTION AND NEGOTIATION SKILLS FOR SUPERVISORS

It is inevitable, that as a supervisor, manager or executive director, you will eventually have to deal with situations of conflict. Dealing ineffectively with conflict can intensify tensions, lead to a stressful work environment, and take up a lot of your time. This practical workshop will provide an array of tools and techniques to help achieve satisfactory outcomes and positive working relationships. Additionally, we will consider how different work-styles affect the team and from this how to build a stronger team.

Learning Objectives:

- De-escalate tense situations.
- Respond to confrontation by employees.
- Approach and raise concerns with staff members in ways that won't lead to defensiveness.
- Address people's underlying concerns set boundaries effectively and manage staff-staff conflicts.
- Develop an understanding of different work-styles and how to work with these different styles to strengthen your team.
- Learn the 4 main components of team-building and consider how to apply them in your workplace.

COUNSELLING SKILLS

COUNSELLING SKILLS PART 1

This interactive workshop will expand and build upon basic counselling skills that are used in working with clients within the housing system. The session is divided into two parts: the morning will be spent examining the essentials of counselling and communication skills; while the afternoon focuses on the application of these skills in specific areas. These areas include: diverse client populations; women’s issues; people with mental health or concurrent disorders; working with groups; and other areas identified by participants in the workshop. Drawing on a variety of theoretical and practice-based approaches, this session introduces counselling for those new to the field, and an opportunity for continued development and practice for more experienced participants. You are asked to come to the workshop with your own case examples for discussion and “troubleshooting.”

Learning Objectives:

- Review effective communication skills used in many service settings.
- Examine how these skills are used within the context of agencies with specific subpopulations like street involved, Aboriginal and LGBT communities.
- Practice exercise utilizing these skills and review relevant case examples from participants’ setting.

TARGET GROUP: All

COUNSELLING SKILLS PART 2

Why are some people easier to work with than others? How can I better connect with challenging clients? Many of the answers to these questions can be found in how we communicate: the better our communication skills, the easier it is to work with personally and professionally challenging individuals and situations. Building on the content covered in the “Introduction to Counselling Skills” course, this workshop will focus on enhancing your communication skills, developing greater cultural competence, and managing conflict more effectively. The session addresses the key principles and strategies in effective communication, with a focus on giving and receiving feedback, non-verbal communication, and identifying areas for further professional development. This dynamic and practical course combines large group discussion, interactive small-group exercises and individual work. At the end of this course participants will be able to: assess communication strengths and areas for further development; apply strategies for giving and receiving feedback; recognize different types of non-verbal communication; resolve conflict more effectively; and identify next steps for continued enhancement of communication skills.

Learning Objectives:

- Enhance your understanding of core counselling/communication skills and areas for further development.
- Apply a brief, cognitive-behavioural intervention in counselling.
- Implement Mindfulness Meditation strategies with clients.
- Learn and use some new tools for your counselling tool kit.

CUSTOMER SERVICE (AVAILABLE AS SELF-PACED ONLINE TRAINING & IN-SERVICE)

Across all industries and organizations today, excellent customer service is an expectation. When employees can adopt and support a customer service culture everyone benefits. Focusing on client-oriented customer care, this highly interactive workshop will reinforce positive attitudes and bring new customer service skill sets to familiar situations reinforcing the delivery of caring, courteous and customer-oriented service both face-to-face and on the phone. Participants will learn: the importance of good customer service, identify what customers want, practice language strategies to manage challenging situations, how to deal with irate callers effectively, use positive language (extended phrases, words to use, words to avoid), and take responsibility and ensure customer satisfaction.

Learning Objectives:

- Define exceptional client service for your organization.
- Practice language strategies to manage challenging situations.
- Deal with irate callers effectively.
- Take responsibility for client service excellence - go the extra mile.

TARGET GROUP: All

DEFUSING HOSTILITY TWO-DAY TRAINING

Staff and supervisors are increasingly intervening with people who are angry, hostile, aggressive and violent. This intensive two-day training program will provide you with the knowledge, self-awareness, and skills to verbally defuse hostility and aggression, work more effectively as a team, and manage the stress often experienced through such encounters. This workshop will help you to: understand the dynamics of anger and hostility; manage and defuse yourself through a journey of self-exploration of early learning about anger and hostility and personal value conflicts; effective verbal/non-verbal skills for de-escalating anger, hostility and resistance; a holistic approach to utilizing the “individual in crisis” to guide the intervention and de-escalation process; and understand the impact, causes and symptoms of compassion fatigue and traumatic stress. A certificate of participation will be issued upon successful completion of the two-day course.

Learning Objectives:

- To explore the dynamics of anger and hostility.
- To increase the self-awareness and interpersonal awareness of anger and crisis with participants.
- To develop effective verbal and non-verbal approaches for responding to anger, hostility and resistance.
- To identify and explore challenging crisis situations of participants and to provide actual simulation opportunities for intervention.

TARGET GROUP: All

*Certificate is valid for 18 months

DEVELOPING HARM REDUCTION PROGRAMS

This workshop shares some of the promising practices I’ve learned over a decade of fostering youth leadership with homeless and vulnerable youth within a harm reduction-based peer model. This workshop would be useful for people running or interested in designing a program that integrates leaders with “lived experience” of mental illness, substance use, poverty and/or homelessness as part of your service delivery model.

The facilitator will cover their thoughts, ideas and learning about:

- Centering and honouring substance user/sex worker expertise, talent, and desire to help peers and change systems
- The differences between using a peer model with a youth harm reduction program compared to an adult harm reduction program
- Curriculum and educational tools from peer trainings
- Negotiating power differences between staff who don’t identify as substance users, and harm reduction workers with lived experiences
- Supporting/mentoring/motivating harm reduction workers who are also service users
- Overcoming challenges/tips on working with people who use drugs

DOCUMENTATION SKILLS

DOCUMENTATION SKILLS (INTRODUCTION)

Are you interested in the essentials of documentation and record-keeping? Do you want to know what guides the structure and content of writing for counsellors and advocates? While practicing various aspects of documentation, participants will review basic guidelines for documentation and record-keeping; examine general legal and ethical issues that guide documentation; and evaluate simulated writing samples for accurate, complete, and non-biased content. At the end of the workshop, participants will have a clear idea of the principles that guide best practices in documentation.

Learning Objectives:

- To review basic guidelines for documentation and record-keeping.

- To examine, in general, legal and ethical issues in documentation.
- To evaluate writing samples for accurate, complete, non-biased content.

TARGET GROUP: All

ADVANCED DOCUMENTATION SKILLS

Following from the Documentation Skills Introduction session, this workshop will begin by summarizing the general principles that guide best practices in documentation, and the policy and legislation that inform the way we collect information in social service agencies. The rest of the workshop will focus on participants' written work in response to various simulated, live interviews, and work situations. Participants will also have an opportunity to examine their own work and reflect on areas of improvement.

Learning Objectives:

- To use principles of best practices in improving professional documentation.
- To understand the policy and legislation that guide responsible documentation.
- To use priority and discernment as tools for documenting layered issues.
- To make use of personal feedback in improving professional documentation.

EFFECTIVELY BUILDING EQUITY INTO WELLNESS PRIORITIES IN YOUR AGENCY

In a highly diverse and challenging agency environment, the need to provide effective support to staff members who are dealing with on-going stress and issues of “burn out” is critical. This participatory session will provide opportunities for managers to develop critical awareness and practical skills to address wellness challenges – personally and organizationally. Toronto’s workplace environment is highly diverse with multiple programming and case management challenges faced by staff often with increasingly limited resources. The session will therefore utilize an equity-based orientation and framework. Additionally, participants will have access to practical tools to support an understanding of some of the critical equity-related challenges that contribute to and might compound workplace stressors. We will explore strategies to address them. The experience will provide managers with the skills necessary to be a dynamic, proactive wellness leader and examine key components to building an integrated wellness plan that is focussed on safety, equity, cultural competence, effectively addressing staff stress-related needs and infusing wellness as a priority in all aspects of their social service work. Case studies, best evidence, resources and support material will be utilized.

Learning Objectives:

- Build awareness of basic wellness issues – personally and organizationally using an equity-based framework.
- Enhance knowledge and skills in addressing workplace stressors and wellness in a fast paced, demanding and diverse work environment.
- Provide relevant tools and resources to enhance leadership in addressing agency wellness, safety and effectiveness.

TARGET GROUP: Executive Directors, Managers, Supervisors & Coordinators

EFFECTIVELY SUPPORTING DROP-IN PARTICIPANTS’ GOALS

Supporting participant led goals is a sector best practice, and a key function of the role the drop-in sector plays in the lives of vulnerable people. It is critical to facilitate a supportive relationship, while understanding individual and systemic factors which impacts drop-in participants. Advocating for services and systems creates positive outcomes in drop-in settings. This course is taught by TDIN staff and subject matter experts. Resources to increase the capacity of workshop participants will be provided.

Learning Objectives:

- Examine tools to support participant-driven decision making.
- Enhance understanding of how systems and services are navigated.
- Learn to effectively support self-advocacy, advocacy in service provision and systemic advocacy.
- Help participants to identify and plan for goals.

ETHICAL BOUNDARIES (AVAILABLE AS SELF-PACED ONLINE TRAINING & IN-SERVICE)

This brief but intense information session will focus on supporting direct service professionals in the housing and homeless sector with establishing and maintaining professional boundaries. The session will look at strategies to create effective and respectful boundaries early in the working relationship. The perspective of boundaries will combine both the relationship with the service consumer and co-workers. Additionally, the session will spend time addressing how to maintain boundaries when they are tested, or professionals feel a personalized connection to a specific individual. Participants will: increase their understanding of strategies to establish professional boundaries with both service consumers as well as co-workers; explore their personal impact and how one can effectively interact and support individuals while maintaining professional boundaries; increase their understanding of how to separate personal values and opinions from professional roles and responsibilities; and learn strategies to maintain boundaries when/if they are tested. This session will offer group facilitation, case situations and the opportunity for question and answers.

Learning Objectives:

- Increased awareness and understanding of the importance of boundaries and how to responsibly develop and establish.
- Ability to separate personal values and perspective from workplace expectations and boundaries.
- Increased ability to adapt to a variety of situations related to workplace boundaries.
- Increased understanding of how to respond well to boundary tests.

FROM FRONTLINE TO SUPERVISOR/MANAGER

Congratulations! You are a supervisor/manager! Now what? How will you interact and deal with your former peers? Where should your focus be? How can you continue your success? Your co-workers, fellow team members, and in many cases, your friends were the people you joked with, took breaks with and looked out for. The co-workers who used to be your peers are now the employees who report to you. Even if they were happy that you got promoted when you accepted the job, you're no longer in the "us" crowd. Now, a lot of things are very different. This course will assist newly hired supervisors/managers from within the organization to assume their new management role in a prepared and confident way.

Topics Explored:

- ✓ Handling friendships and the necessary changes.
- ✓ Boundaries as a supervisor/manager with former peers.
- ✓ Setting clear expectations.
- ✓ Enhancing relationship skills.
- ✓ Obtaining collaboration.

Learning Objectives:

- Develop effective boundaries with former peers.
- Enhance relationship skills.
- Learn assertive communication and delegation skills.

TARGET GROUP: Managers & Supervisors, those moving from Front-Line to Supervisor positions

GROUP DYNAMICS AND GROUP FACILITATION

What do I do when a group just isn't interested? How do I deal with "monopolizers" or skeptics in a group context? How do I keep the group focused and engage all the members? Group facilitation involves attending to multiple simultaneous group processes and content; yet a well-facilitated group can be a powerful vehicle for mutual support and positive change. This workshop examines several key issues in group dynamics and presents practical tips and strategies that you can use right away. Workshop content will draw from theory and research on effective facilitation techniques, with an emphasis on interactive, hands-on learning. Participants are encouraged to bring their own challenging group facilitation questions and practice dilemmas for discussion and troubleshooting in the session.

Learning Objectives:

- Assess your own facilitation strengths and areas for improvement.
- Identify planning strategies to increase group engagement and interaction.
- Learn how to deal with challenging participants.
- Receive feedback on areas of strength and further development as a facilitator.

HARM REDUCTION (AVAILABLE AS SELF-PACED ONLINE TRAINING ONLY)

This one-day workshop is designed to provide historical context for harm reduction initiatives and practices in Toronto, and to introduce the concept of both substance use and harm reduction as continua. We will explore some of the roots and effects of stigma and NIMBYism; some barriers/solutions to implementing harm reduction models, and the efficacy of harm reduction strategies. An example of a practical application of harm reduction illustrating the value of including peer expertise in projects and programs will be afforded through an examination of overdose risks and responses.

Learning Objectives:

- Increased understanding of the complex relationships between poverty, homelessness, trauma, stigma, substance use and harm reduction.
- Strengthened awareness of the efficacy of harm reduction strategies including overdose awareness.
- Enhanced knowledge of harm reduction-based resources/services and of including people with lived expertise in program development and delivery.

TARGET GROUP: All

HARM REDUCTION IN A SHELTER CONTEXT

Some of us say we believe in harm reduction, or that our shelters are harm reduction based. But how well are we really meeting the needs of people who use drugs or are engaged in criminalized economies? This workshop provides an opportunity to learn from someone who has been doing the work for over a decade, and to brainstorm ways to overcome challenges. The facilitator attends to issues of race, gender, class, age, culture, ability, and staff privilege in her analysis.

Learning Objectives:

- Practical information around how harm reduction does and could look in a shelter context
- Considering youth versus adult needs
- Navigating tensions and our difficult feelings about people of different ages using substances
- Practicing harm reduction within limiting legal/agency policy contexts
- Advice for advocating for policy change
- Policies and procedures needed for overdose prevention
- Integrating service user leadership into program delivery
- Enhancing participant engagement in harm reduction programming at your shelter/drop-in
- Centering the ethic “nothing about us without us” and doing solidarity as service providers who don’t identify with substance use or street economies

HOARDING SUPPORT THROUGH A TRAUMA-INFORMED LENS

This full-day online workshop will provide housing, shelter, drop-in and mental health workers with a practical guide to understand and work with those who have challenges discarding and/or acquiring items. This workshop will look at age of onset of hoarding-related behaviours, and how trauma, attachment, avoidance, other mental health challenges and insight into the hoarding, may impact and potentially lead to safety, health, housing and other challenges.

Through discussion, experiential examples, case studies, group work and/or guest speakers, participants will learn a variety of practical strategies to work with individuals with clutter and hoarding challenges. This workshop will draw upon harm reduction principles, and evidence-based approaches that have shown success related to hoarding, including motivational interviewing, stages of change theory, cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT), and mindfulness. Additionally, participants will learn organizational principles and strategies that may be helpful to assist in a variety of hoarding and acquiring situations. Community resources will also be presented.

Learning Objectives:

- Increased understanding of how trauma, attachment challenges and other factors can increase challenges with acquiring and/or discarding
- Understand how Level of Insight in Hoarding Disorder, (as defined in the DSM-5) and harm reduction principles, can help in building a strategy to address hoarding issues
- Increase understanding of safety and health risks associated with hoarding
- Learn a number of organizational and evidence-based informal counselling techniques to work with hoarding including motivational interviewing and CBT
- Increased knowledge of community resources related to hoarding

IMMIGRATION POLICY CHANGES, REFUGEE PROTECTION SYSTEM AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING

This full-day session combines two half-day workshops offered through FCJ Refugee Centre. During the Immigration Policy Changes section, the facilitator will review the new immigration programs, procedures and policy changes made by immigration and how they are affecting immigrants and refugees. The facilitator will also explore the alternatives and current resources for vulnerable individuals: human trafficked persons, homeless population, non-status and precarious migrants. The Human Trafficking section will provide a general overview of human trafficking issues in Canada while focusing in greater detail on victim/survivor support and resources through a lens of coordinated community response. The presentation will provide access to crucial training materials and educational resources about trafficking. It will also assist participants with identifying and providing better service to women who have been trafficked with respect to accessing education on important legislative, policy and legal issues that affect refugee claimants.

Learning Objectives:

- Summary of Immigration Policy Changes implemented.
- Changes to the refugee determination system.
- Timelines on the Refugee Determination Process.
- Root causes and awareness of trafficking: trafficking in Canada.
- Understanding and identifying a trafficked person.
- Services and settlement process for a trafficked person.

INCLUSIVE SHELTER ENVIRONMENTS FOR LGBTQ2S PEOPLE

This training supports shelter staff to become better allies for people in the LGBTQ2S communities experiencing homelessness. Research and the voices of LGBTQ2S people have been consistently highlighting that all sectors need to improve the experiences of LGBTQ2S people experiencing homelessness. Homophobia, biphobia, and transphobia are prevalent in our systems: families, education, health care, faith, employment and justice, to mention only a handful. The goal of this training is to help staff and organizations become better allies of people from the LGBTQ2S communities. In order to do this, we need to create welcoming and affirming spaces for LGBTQ2S people. This accessible and practical training will support shelter staff to improve professional practice and to access knowledge and tools that will assist with the development of policies and practice. This curriculum supports staff and organizations to meet mandatory requirements within the City of Toronto Shelter Standards.

Learning Objectives:

- To identify how to improve the experiences of LGBTQ2S people accessing the programs of participating organizations.
- To identify emerging and promising practices that support LGBTQ2S people.
- To identify common words to express sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression in Canada.
- To develop an empathetic understanding of the experiences of the LGBTQ people.
- To challenge homophobic, biphobic and transphobic language and behaviour.
- To develop measurable actions to foster a safe, welcoming and inclusive environment that protects the dignity of LGBTQ2S people.

The voices of young people backed by research have been consistently highlighting that all sectors need to improve the experiences of LGBTQ2S youth experiencing homelessness. Homophobia, biphobia, and transphobia are prevalent in our systems: families, education, health care, faith, employment and justice, to mention only a handful. The goal of this training is to help staff and organizations become better allies of LGBTQ2S youth. In order to do this, we need to create welcoming and affirming spaces (social, physical and cultural) for LGBTQ2S youth. This accessible and practical training will support shelter staff to improve professional practice and to access knowledge and tools that will assist with the development of policies and practice. This curriculum supports staff and organizations to meet mandatory requirements within the City of Toronto Shelter Standards.

Learning Objectives:

- To identify how to improve the experiences of LGBTQ2S youth accessing the programs of participating organizations.
- To identify emerging and promising practices that support LGBTQ2S youth.
- To identify common words to express sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression in Canada.
- To develop an empathetic understanding of the experiences of the LGBTQ youth.
- To challenge homophobic, biphobic and transphobic language and behavior.
- To develop measurable actions to foster a safe, welcoming and LGBTQ2S inclusive environment that protects the dignity of young people.

INDIGENOUS CULTURAL COMPETENCY TRAINING CYCLE 1

Intergenerational trauma as well as direct, indirect, and vicarious experiences of trauma, have impacted the health and well-being of Aboriginal peoples. Understanding the complexity of how trauma affects emotional responses, triggers, perceptions and beliefs is foundational to a trauma-informed approach. A trauma-informed approach aims to create physical, mental, spiritual, and emotional safety in order to support healing and well-being. The purpose of this training is to provide all organizational staff, including facilities staff and board members, with the structural foundations for entrenching a trauma-informed approach in all aspects of care; from intake procedures, organizational policies to physical space.

TARGET GROUP: All

INDIGENOUS CULTURAL COMPETENCY TRAINING CYCLE 2

As a continuum of learning we build on from the first level, the historical narrative and exploring more recent efforts to re-frame the relationship between Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples. Specific content includes: the “White paper” and the response from Indigenous people, amendments to the Indian Act, the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples, the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, Canada’s apology to Residential School Survivors, and the lawsuit for the 60’s Scoop.

Learning Outcomes

- Understand more recent events and how they work to address, or fail to address, historic trauma within Indigenous communities;
- Identify implications and impacts of discriminatory Legislation on Indigenous communities;
- Learn trauma informed approaches to enhance organizational communication;
- Come to know the resiliency of Indigenous peoples and their respective ‘culture’
- Development of specific action items that focus on Relationship Building and Respect.

LEGAL RESPONSIBILITIES AND BEST PRACTICES WHEN REPORTING SUSPECTED CHILD ABUSE

This workshop, presented by Boost for Kids, will assist participants in the early identification of and effective intervention with children who have been abused, or are at risk for abuse. Legal and moral responsibilities with respect to reporting suspicions of child abuse will be highlighted. This will include assisting participants in understanding when a call to a Children's Aid Society is necessary. Strategies that assist staff in overcoming their fears of reporting will be emphasized, as well as suggestions for how to maintain the client relationship when a report to child protection authorities has been made. The information and discussion shared in this workshop will support agencies in developing proactive policies and procedures for responding to children and families when abuse and violence are suspected.

Learning Objectives:

- Differentiate child abuse and family violence in legal and social contexts, including how culture relates to child abuse and family violence in a Canadian context.
- Describe strategies for responding to a disclosure of child abuse or family violence, within one’s professional role.
- Develop an understanding of how the child protection system operates in Ontario, including the roles of a Children’s Aid Society and police.
- Determine when to consult about and report suspicions of child abuse to a child protection agency, specifying legal reporting responsibilities.
- Identify fears to reporting suspicions of child abuse, recognize how these impacts on children and families, and discuss how to overcome fears.

TARGET GROUP: Youth Workers, Children’s Advocates, Family Shelter Workers, Supervisor & Managers

MANAGING AND LEADING ON DIVERSITY

This interactive, experiential workshop will provide opportunities for managers and leaders to enhance their diversity awareness, build cultural competence and organizational leadership. The session will provide tools to assist in building an inclusive sensitive, representative work environment and in offering excellent services to an increasingly diverse clientele. Participants will engage in activities focusing on critical self-reflection, dynamics of power, working with differences, delivering services in a culturally competent manner, how to ensure policies and organizational culture appropriately reflect diversity and key elements in diversity planning. There will also be opportunities to explore the socio-cultural realities of diverse communities in Toronto.

Learning Objectives:

- Provide opportunities to explore issues of identity and social location in respect to diversity, equity and cultural competence.
- Enhance your knowledge of the concepts of diversity, equity and cultural competence.
- Increase your leadership skill level in effectively planning and working with diverse populations in your agency.
- Provide you with relevant resources and tools to enhance your work as manager and leaders in the area.

Target Group: Executive Directors, Managers, Supervisors & Board Members

MARGINALIZED YOUTH, CRISIS MANAGEMENT AND CONFLICT RESOLUTION

This workshop explores critical challenges related to crisis management and conflict resolution for youth residents in multi-racial, high needs residential environments. This interactive, participatory session will provide case studies, tools, approaches and strategies to effectively address these issues. Increasingly, diverse agency realities (e.g. gender, race, religious background, sexual orientation, etc.) mean that there will be a strong focus on anti-oppression and equity principles, considerations and assessments. Strategies identified will be framed by a youth-centred, asset-focussed orientation. Additionally, the practices and approaches to conflict resolution and non-violent intervention will be infused by cultural considerations and implications. Finally, the workshop will provide opportunities to explore some policy and programming issues related to important decisions like discharge, resident empowerment and proactive staff supports.

Learning Objectives:

- Explore contextual issues related to anger, violence and social exclusion related to youth residents.
- Develop important knowledge and skills related to effective crisis management and conflict resolution for youth residents in a culturally and racially diverse environment.
- Enhance shelter effectiveness in addressing issues of safety, wellness and staff support.
- Provide tools and resources to effectively promote and support shelter safety for all stakeholders.

TARGET GROUP: Front-line, Case Management & Programming Staff, Managers/Supervisor

MEDIATION SKILLS FOR QUICK INTERVENTION

Knowing how to resolve interpersonal conflicts in a timely and constructive way is an important skill for shelter staff, managers, and volunteers. Participants in this one-day workshop will be introduced to mediation principles and skills that will enhance their ability to respond to conflicts as they arise between clients, staff, colleagues and others. They will learn the St. Stephen's Quick Intervention model, a mediation technique that "puts out fires" by improving communication and building understanding between people in conflict. By the end of this workshop, participants will: know that conflict can be an opportunity for learning and beneficial outcomes, understand the nature and dynamics of anger and conflict escalation, understand mediation and the role of the mediator, learn techniques to remain calm in the face of anger and conflict, learn the core mediation skills of needs-based problem-solving and active listening, develop skills to de-escalate people in conflict and identify their underlying needs, have strategies to build understanding between disputants and engage them in problem-solving, learn how to apply mediation principles and skills to resolve conflicts "on the spot" using St. Stephen's "Quick Intervention Model".

Learning Objectives:

- Understand the principles of third-party intervention in a conflict situation.
- Understand the steps involved in needs-based problem solving.
- Understand how to de-escalate two angry people at the same time.
- Understand how to build a 'SMART' agreement (specific, measurable, accountable, and realistic, with a time frame).

MENTAL HEALTH FIRST AID TWO-DAY TRAINING

Mental Health First Aid (MHFA) is the help provided to a person developing a mental health problem, experiencing the worsening of an existing mental health problem or in a mental health crisis. Just like physical first aid is provided until medical treatment can be obtained, MHFA is given until appropriate support is found or until the crisis is resolved. MHFA is intended for adults interacting with adults (18 years and older). This course focuses on the four most common mental health disorders including substance related, mood related, anxiety and trauma related, as well as psychotic disorders. Participants who take this course will be well prepared to interact confidently about mental health with their family, friends, communities and workplaces. One person in five will experience a mental health problem this year. The most difficult part of intervening is knowing what to say. Evidence shows that taking a MHFA course increases the confidence participants have in engaging someone experiencing a mental health problem or crisis.

Mental Health First Aid:

- Engages confidently where a person may be a danger to themselves or others
- Provides help to prevent the mental health problem from developing into a more serious state
- Promotes the recovery of good mental health
- Provides comfort to a person experiencing a mental health problem

MENTAL HEALTH IN THE WORKPLACE

This 6-hour workshop opens the conversation about working in a healthy work environment, and how it affects our mental well-being. This workshop presents an in-depth understanding of mental illness and mental health; offering statistics, stereotypes, basic facts, and resources available in the community. In addition, stress management tools, and general coping skills will be shared, in hopes to improve work/life balance along with self-care ideas and opportunities. This workshop is highly interactive, with activities and discussion throughout.

Learning Objectives:

By the end of this session, participants will:

- Have a better understanding of mental health and mental illness.
- Be more able to recognize signs and symptoms of common mental illnesses.
- Feel more comfortable having conversations related to mental health.
- Be knowledgeable about resources in their community.
- Know what other trainings are available.
- Understand the process of forming and managing crisis.
- Apply mentally healthy and supportive workplace strategies based on the National Standard of Canada for Psychological Health and Safety.
- Have a better understanding of confidentiality and accommodations.

METHAMPHETAMINE: EFFECTIVELY SUPPORTING PARTICIPANTS WHO USE

Methamphetamine use is on the rise among street-involved populations. Because of this, the Toronto Drop-in Network (TDIN) has created a training specific to the frontline to help orient workers to methamphetamine, as well as its current context on the street. This training aims to dispel myths surrounding methamphetamine, and works to instill practical knowledge based on facts, as well as good team and individual practices. The focus of this training is on maintaining positive relationships with participants and minimizing the need for involvement by the criminal justice system.

Social service workers will:

- Learn about the history and pharmacology of methamphetamine;
- Learn about the potential risks surrounding methamphetamine;
- Gain skills in how to prevent crisis and provide support;
- Effectively manage crisis situations once they arise;
- Ensure a continuum of care after a crisis has occurred.

MINDFULNESS AS A COUNSELLING APPROACH

This workshop is designed as an introduction to the evidence-based techniques in Mindfulness as a counselling approach. Mindfulness is a state of active attention to the present. When you're mindful, you observe your thoughts and feelings from a distance, without judging them as good or bad. Instead of letting your life pass you by, mindfulness means living in the moment. Participants will learn skills and approaches such as grounding, distraction, creating a holding environment, etc., that will provide tools for helpers to assist clients. Mindfulness has been shown to assist client's struggling with depression, anxiety, stress, anger management as well as those recovering from physical illness.

Learning Objectives:

- Learn the foundational knowledge that contributes to Mindfulness based approaches.
- Develop a set of Mindfulness techniques and skills to use in their organizational setting.
- Practice through role play, Mindfulness Based Approaches learned during the workshop.

MORE THAN JUST RAMPS - WORKING WITH PEOPLE WHO HAVE DISABILITIES

At any given time, shelter staff respond to individuals who bring a wide range of experiences associated with trauma, homelessness and violence. Over the years, we have also seen an increase in who is accessing services, which include people with disabilities. Over 15% of Ontario's population has a disability; this means that approximately one in 7 people. This workshop is designed to support staff to understanding the attitudinal and environmental barriers facing people with disabilities in accessing services within the shelter system. The purpose of this training is to provide all organizational staff, including facilities staff and board members, with the foundation for incorporating an intersectional anti-oppression approach to working with people with disabilities. This approach works from a place of dignity and respect in all aspects of care; from intake procedures, organizational policies to physical space.

Learning Objectives:

- To help shelter providers reduce and eliminate barriers faced by people with disabilities in accessing shelter beds and services.
- To help shelter staff better understand barriers to people with disabilities in the context of shelter services
- To help shelter providers recognize the need for diverse approaches to responding to access needs and better understand how they can adjust their programs and services to better meet the diverse needs of people with disabilities.
- To help shelter staff identify strategies for addressing barriers including physical/built environment, information and communication, systemic barriers and attitudinal barriers and other factors that are unique to people with disabilities who are homeless and/or lacking appropriate supports to reduce the impact of barriers within the shelter system.

MOTIVATIONAL INTERVIEWING

MOTIVATIONAL INTERVIEWING (INTRODUCTION)

Do you feel restricted in helping clients and shelter residents with questionable motivation? Are the concepts of motivation, resistance, ambivalence and compliance confusing? This course examines motivation as an interactive process between client/resident and counsellor, providing a variety of practice tools to address key issues in counselling and support situations. Special emphasis is placed on working with people who are more "resistant." This approach has been successfully applied in the area of addictions. Workshop content includes: principles of motivational interviewing; building motivation for change; dealing with resistance; and understanding strategic tools that can be used in brief interventions. This training is interactive, and all attendees will be required to participate.

Learning Objectives:

At the end of this workshop, participants will be able to:

- List the key principles and strategies of MI.
- Practice and apply the four essential opening strategies with clients.
- Identify approaches to clients who are resistant to change.

TARGET GROUP: All

ADVANCED MOTIVATIONAL INTERVIEWING

This session builds on the strategies introduced in the "Motivational Interviewing" workshop. Motivational Interviewing can be "simple but not easy" to integrate into your regular counselling style – this highly interactive workshop is an opportunity to develop and practice these skills more extensively. An emphasis will be placed on case discussions and practice, so you are encouraged to bring your own challenging case examples for us to work with. Workshop content includes: reflective strategies revisited: the art of strategic reflection, dealing with resistance in groups and individuals, motivational interviewing – when you only have 20 minutes and case consultation and role play.

Learning Objectives:

- Participants will learn further skills, building on the foundation of basic MI approaches.
- Participants will apply key concepts of MI through case discussion and role plays with complex clients and scenarios.
- Practical application of MI in participant's workplace will be developed through the exploration of participant's own case examples.

NON-VIOLENT CRISIS INTERVENTION (CPI) TWO-DAY TRAINING (AVAILABLE MEMBERS ONLY)

This interactive workshop will focus on prevention techniques and on how to intervene with an escalated individual. The first day will introduce you to basic crisis intervention techniques. Learn to recognize warning signs that allow for early intervention, plus how to use verbal and nonverbal techniques to avoid a violent confrontation. The second day of the workshop trains participants in safe physical intervention procedures, including personal safety — when and how to intervene safely. An effective team approach to intervention will also be included. A certificate of participation will be issued upon successful completion of the two-day course.

Learning Objectives:

Units I-VII: Preventative Techniques:

- Identify the behaviour levels that contribute to the development of a crisis and choose an appropriate staff intervention for each level.
- Identify useful non-verbal techniques which can help to prevent acting-out behaviour.
- Use verbal techniques to de-escalate behaviour.
- Demonstrate CPI's principles of personal safety to avoid injury if behaviour escalates to a physical level. Provide for the Care, Welfare, Safety, and Security of all those who are involved in a crisis.

Units IX-X: Situational Role Plays and Postvention:

- Apply the material covered in training to real-life situations.
- Find ways to use the time after a crisis (postvention) as a step toward preventing future crises.
- Use a model for action after an incident that will bring about necessary closure, debriefing and re-establishment of therapeutic relationships with the individuals involved.

TARGET GROUP: All

*To participate in this training all participants must sign a waiver
Certificate is valid for one (1) year

NONVIOLENT CRISIS INTERVENTION (CPI) – BLENDED LEARNING (SELF-PACED & LIVE ONLINE ONE-DAY TRAINING) AVAILABLE TO THTC MEMBERS ONLY

Nonviolent Crisis Intervention training focuses on de-escalation, intervention and prevention techniques to address escalating situations in social service settings. You will learn strategies to recognize and respond at the earliest points possible in a crisis situation, and to use a variety of verbal and nonverbal techniques to keep yourself, participants and the escalated individual safe. Setting limits, professional and ethical decision-making, using an effective team approach to intervene, and re-establishing communication with individuals who have escalated, are primary parts of the learning.

This Nonviolent Crisis Intervention training will be provided in a Blended Learning format consisting of:

Self-paced 'Flex' learning: once registered, you will need approximately 4.5-6 hours to complete the online Flex training. This portion of the training consists of watching video modules (with audio and Closed Caption) and completing the fillable PDF Learner's Guide available once you have started the Flex training. You can complete the Flex modules at your own pace and pause, go back through the material, etc as needed. There is a brief multiple choice quiz at the end of the self-paced learning that must be successfully completed at least 24 hours prior to your Live Online One-Day Scheduled training otherwise you will be unable to attend your Live Online scheduled session.

Live On-Line One-day Training: the live portion of this on-line training will enable you to work with a Certified Nonviolent Crisis Intervention Instructor, to further understand and apply concepts introduced in the Flex modules. Focus will be on least restrictive, hands-off interventions, and scenarios to apply and practice key concepts. New evidence-based concepts will additionally be introduced.

Certificate of Completion: This training will provide Verbal Intervention Certificates of Completion and will focus on verbal and non-touch strategies to address physical risk behaviours. Due to Covid-19 physical distancing restrictions, the CPI Disengagement Skills (formerly 'Personal Safety Techniques) will not be offered at this time.

Learning Objectives:

- Identify the behaviour levels that contribute to the development of a crisis and choose an appropriate staff intervention for each level.
- Identify verbal and non-verbal techniques which can help to avoid or respond to escalating situations.
- Identify and apply hands-off interventions to respond to physical risk behaviours.
- Provide for the Care, Welfare, Safety, and Security of everyone involved in a crisis.
- Apply the material covered in training to real-life situations.
- Provide means to re-establish communication with an escalated individual, strengthen team responses after a crisis, and lessen the likelihood of future crises. TARGET GROUP: All

NUTRITION STANDARDS IN SHELTERS AND RESPITES

This half-day training session is designed for those directly involved with food handling and will focus on nutrition throughout the life cycle and nutrition for persons with diverse dietary needs. Using Canada's Food Guide as a foundation, participants will learn new and creative ways to apply healthy eating and nutrition strategies within their shelter and/or Respite. Menu development will be explored to help plan nutritious meals while meeting the Nutrition Standards.

Learning Objectives:

By the end of the session, participants will have an increased knowledge of:

- Eating Well with Canada's Food Guide, including portion sizes and key messages.
- The 'Food Safety and Nutrition Standards' section from the Toronto Shelter Standards and how to plan a healthy meal that meets these standards.
- The impact of nutrition throughout the lifecycle, how to adapt client meals according to specific life stages, and where to find reputable nutrition information.
- Common health conditions that can impact eating habits of clients living in shelters or drop-ins such as: addictions, mental health, and poor dentition.

TARGET GROUP: Restricted to THTC's Mandated City Funded Shelters & Respites Only. Cooks, Individuals who handle and/or prepare food

NUTRITION STANDARDS IN SHELTERS AND RESPITES – MENU PLANNING

This half-day workshop is designed for those directly involved with planning or modifying the menu for their establishment. We will focus on planning the menu based on the Nutrition Standards and Canada's Food Guide, keeping in mind the nutrition needs of our homeless clientele. Ideas to incorporate religious-specific and culturally-diverse components into menus will be shared. Participants will learn how to read a nutrition label, find out how to choose products for those with Halal and Kosher restrictions, and discuss how to incorporate donated foods. Please bring to this session at least one quantity recipe (25-50 servings). Recipes will be copied and shared.

Learning Objectives:

By the end of the session, participants will have an increased knowledge of:

- Eating Well with Canada's Food Guide, including portion sizes and key messages.
- The 'Food Safety and Nutrition Standards' section from the Toronto Shelter Standards and how to plan healthy meals that meet these standards.
- How to interpret information on food labels to select healthier choices and identify Halal and Haram ingredients in foods.
- Money saving tips, how to use donated foods, and sources of reputable nutrition information.

TARGET GROUP: Restricted to THTC's Mandated City Funded Shelters & Respite Only. Cooks, Individuals who handle and/or prepare food

ONTARIO'S SOCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

The objective of this one-day workshop is to provide participants with an overview of Ontario Works and the Ontario Disability Support Program – the two main income security programs for low income individuals. We will review who is eligible, how to apply, what ongoing requirements exist, as well as examine what mandatory and discretionary benefits can be accessed when special needs arise. The workshop will also examine the significant changes made to the two programs in the last period, the role of the provincial Poverty Reduction Strategy, as well as the proposed transformations actively under consideration.

Learning Objectives:

- To provide an orientation & understanding of the two provincial social assistance programs (Ontario Works & the Ontario Disability Support Program) to participants.
- To enable those already providing support to clients to better navigate the two systems & to more effectively intervene on their clients' behalf.
- To familiarize participants with the existence of other social assistance-related benefits and programs available to their clients.
- To problem-solve on issues regularly experienced by participants in their daily delivery of service.

TARGET GROUP: All

PARTNERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

In this workshop participants will gain a theoretical understanding of partnership development and practice the skills necessary to develop and nurture partnerships.

- Different types of partnerships and the value of each type will be discussed
- Examples of successful partnerships will be identified
- The stages of, and roles in, partnership development will be reviewed
- The challenges of partnerships will be considered and strategies for handling discussed
- Participants will identify the responsibilities their own roles bring in implementing partnerships
- Participants will work through simulation exercises in which they identify, initiate and maintain a partnership

- Group creativity exercises will encourage participant ingenuity from identification of potential partners, to maintenance of mutually beneficial relationships

TARGET GROUP: All

POLICY DEVELOPMENT

POLICY DEVELOPMENT PART 1

Policies and procedures are vital to a well-run non-profit organization and are important tools designed to assist staff and management with carrying out their work effectively. This one-day interactive workshop will examine the purpose of policy development and the connection between policies, the organizations vision, mission and strategic goals and understanding their importance. The session will distinguish between policies and procedures as well as identify components of standard policy format and review content guidelines for writing and evaluating policy by using methods, tools, templates and samples that have been developed with input from City staff and shelter operators. Upon completion, participants will have the basic format and content to develop policies and procedures governing admission, discharge, service restrictions and complaint handling. Resources will also be provided supporting any future type of policy and procedure development.

Learning Objectives:

- Assist learners in understanding the policy process.
- Explore the planning, analysis, research and pre-writing stage of writing.
- Gain valuable tips and resources to aide you in writing your policies.

TARGET GROUP: Executive Directors, Managers, Supervisors, Board Members & Agency Staff

POLICY DEVELOPMENT PART 2

Building on content explored in Policy Development Part 1, this workshop takes a comprehensive look at the art of creating a policy and procedure. The writing format as well as the writing process will be closely examined ensuring that attendees are equipped with an effective process when drafting new documents. This session will also devote discussion to the Policy and Procedure Improvement Cycle which is especially helpful to organizations/writers who want to strengthen already existing policy and procedures. Learners are encouraged to bring sample policies and procedures that can be used in a critiquing exercise. This session is ideally suited for those who have some policy and procedure development/writing experience and are looking to enhance existing skills. Also appropriate for those who are new to the world of policy and procedures and would like to know more about very specific process.

Learning Objectives:

- Develop an understanding of the Foundations of Writing (Format and Process).
- Discuss the different phases of writing and their importance to the final product (first draft, edit, review and approval, publish).
- Critique policies and procedures (examples available in class or bring your own examples).

TARGET GROUP: Executive Directors, Managers, Supervisors, Board Members & Agency Staff

PROMOTING EXCELLENCE IN A UNIONIZED ENVIRONMENT

The purpose of this one-day course is to take a process-oriented approach to the employment relationship in a unionized setting. The goal is to assist all levels of management to understand how to be successful in a unionized setting in terms of hiring and supervising the work force and limiting liabilities inherent in the arbitration of workplace disputes. In this regard, the topics that will be reviewed will include: negotiating a collective agreement that allows you to manage with minimal interference from the union; the hiring process — what type of candidate are we looking for and what type of evaluation process do we employ at the outset; and the probationary period — a time for weeding out hiring mistakes! The annual evaluation process — do we do it, and if so, what do we get out of it; progressive discipline and termination; policies and procedures; and management rights — do they exist?

Learning Objectives:

- To provide a better understanding of the employment relationship in a unionized environment, taking the mystery out!
- To create a better understanding of the collective bargaining process, - how not to give away the ship!
- To minimize the costs associated with labour relations problems.

TARGET GROUP: Executive Directors, Managers, Supervisors & Board Members

PSYCHOTROPIC MEDICATION USE

This workshop is designed to provide non-medical practitioners with an introduction to pharmacotherapy for mental health and addiction within the Canadian Context This overview will include relevant medication groups, trends, policy and pharma industry development and the role of pharmacy in Canada.

Learning Objectives:

Upon successful completion of this workshop participants will be able to:

- Discuss the relevant and changing trends in mental health and addiction medication.
- Identify and describe evidence based and off label trends in pharmacotherapy.
- Describe the role of pharmacists and prescribers and compare interprovincial trends and differences.
- Distinguish between categories and types of mood-stabilizers, anti-depressants, anti-psychotics, sedatives, prescription pain medication, addiction medication, etc.

RESILIENCY AND SELF-CARE

Self-care and building resiliency are vital in the social service sector, along with other caring professions. Resiliency is also helpful in all aspects of our lives. In this interactive workshop, participants will build resiliency by exploring strategies for self-care. Root causes of stresses and challenges will be explored, yet from a strengths-based lens, focusing on proactive strategies. The course is designed around tools from Dialectical Behaviour Therapy (DBT) and is based upon trauma-informed, anti-oppressive, and adult learning principles. DBT elements include mindfulness, distress tolerance, emotion regulation, and interpersonal effectiveness skills. Participants will also be encouraged to engage in critical self-reflection about ways in which they can foster resiliency for themselves, their peers, their organizations, their profession, and their clients.

Learning Objectives:

Participants shall:

- Create a plan for self-care and resiliency
- Assess the level of stress or burnout in themselves and others
- Build a toolbox of self-care techniques for a range of scenarios and accounting for limited time and resources
- Share their own successful resiliency strategies with each other

RESPONDING TO TRAUMATIC GRIEF AND LOSS IN THE WORKPLACE

For many community agencies, dealing with death and loss is a difficult but expected occupational reality. Many workers in our sector have experienced losses due to death or significant life passages - both at a personal or professional level. Grief-informed policies, procedures, staff training, and human interactions can support the development of agency responses comprehensive enough to manage the challenges of ongoing loss and transition, including the difficult reality of death and traumatic events.

This training will provide an orientation to the broad range of assessment and intervention skills for supporting ourselves, our teams and our agencies in loss situations. As managers and colleagues, supporting one another to collaboratively respond to these loss events can help create healthy workplaces, spirited teams and more resilient workers.

Using a combination of presentation, reflective activities and group interaction, this adult education learning opportunity will assist managers, colleagues and peers to work with grief and loss in these 3 areas:

- Support for bereaved workers as individuals
- Support for a team when death or loss occurs as part of the work
- Support for the organization when there are significant changes in the workplace not necessarily related to death, but generating a loss/stress response

Learning Objectives:

Participants shall:

- To deepen awareness of the impact of ongoing multiple losses on our service-users, in ourselves as workers, and within our teams and agencies as a whole
- To better understand the range of diverse responses to traumatic grief and multiple loss in this sector
- To come away with a theoretical framework for multiple loss impact in marginalized communities and community agencies
- To investigate current coping strategies and strategies of resilience that emerge when people are faced with ongoing loss events
- To provide examples of effective Impact Debriefing techniques and structures for “Saying a Good Good-bye” that support workers and teams responding to a variety of losses

STANDARD FIRST AID, AED (LEVEL C) AND CPR TWO-DAY TRAINING

The Aquatic Development & Emergency Training (ADET Inc.) delivers the two-day Standard First Aid & CPR Program. This in-depth program is a full working session, directly applicable to the work environment and deals with potentially life-threatening situations as well as Secondary Victim Assessments. The Standard First Aid program, advanced in its' elective topics, allows ADET Inc. the ability to customize the program to fulfill the needs of the group, workplace, job related experience or personal interest. The Bloodborne Pathogen program and the Heartsaver (adult & child) CPR course is included in the Standard First Aid Program.  Standards taught reflect the New CPR Guidelines and Standards released in November 2010 and approved by the HSFC and the AHA and meet WSIB requirements. Topics include: unconsciousness, adult & child CPR, choking, bleeding, shock and severe life-threatening allergies, epilepsy, diabetes, head trauma and burns. These sessions are practically oriented, encouraging contributions from participants. Group interaction, practice and discussion are maximized.

Learning Objectives:

Participants will gain an understanding of the following:

- Primary and Secondary Surveys.
- Heat induced emergencies (heat cramps, heat exhaustion & stroke).
- Multiple Injury Management.
- Infant/Child Resuscitation (CPR).
- relationships with the individuals involved.

STANDARD FIRST AID, AED (LEVEL C) AND CPR RE-CERTIFICATION

“In order to renew a Standard First Aid Certificate, the learner, on a one-time basis only, may have the certificate renewed by completing a one-day Standard First Aid Renewal Course with the original provider. The learner may attend this course as long as the Standard First Aid Certificate has not expired” - WSIB.

- Those seeking to renew an expired ADET Inc. Standard First Aid and CPR Certificate must take the Standard First Aid and CPR Two-Day Training.
- Please include a copy of your most recent Standard First Aid and CPR Certificate with registration.
- The Re-certification is valid for three years. Heartsaver CPR skills are refreshed annually.

This in-depth one day working session, directly applicable to the work environment, will refresh and retrain those who are current with their “Standard First Aid & CPR” certificate. Recertifying the First Responder’s knowledge and skills allows for the most recent standards to be introduced while solidifying those once acquired.

Learning Objectives:

Participants will gain an understanding of the following:

- Primary and Secondary Surveys.
- Heat induced emergencies (heat cramps, heat exhaustion & stroke).
- Multiple Injury Management.
- Infant/Child Resuscitation (CPR).

STRESS, COMPASSION FATIGUE AND BURNOUT: AN INTEGRATIVE APPROACH TO SELF-CARE FOR HELPING PROFESSIONALS

Self-Care is essential for enhancing optimal Healthcare, Wellbeing and for Safe Effective Use of Self (SEUS). It is part of self-regulation of the biopsychosocial-spiritual process through which we create and maintain inner and outer balance and wellbeing. Without awareness of stress physiology, stress regulation, self-care tools and self-care treatment plan, we run the risk of not recognizing the signs and symptoms and not responding effectively to prevent illness from extreme stress, compassion fatigue and worker burnout. It is important to learn to apply simple self-care tools to effectively manage stresses to balance and take care of yourself first. We are very good at helping others, but we often neglect or disregard the importance of Personal Self-Care. It is not a luxury, it is Safe Effective Use of Self (SEUS) is it a necessity for our optimal health, longevity and to effectively serve our profession and clients.

Learning Objectives:

After the workshop participants will:

- Identify Stress – different types of stress physiology
- Understand how stress affects us – biopsychosocial-spiritual model (body, mind and spirit)
- Recognize Compassion Fatigue, Secondary Trauma/Vicarious Trauma and Burnout
- Understand how to provide Self-Care Tools for Integration, Restoration and Growth

Experiential Practice:

- Introduce Body-Mindfulness Awareness – a guided experiential practice
- Create a Self-Care Treatment Plan and discuss Tools for Treatment and Growth
- Integrative MAGIC Journaling Process
- Interactive Discussion and Self-Care summary

SUBSTANCES/OVERDOSE PREVENTION/NALOXONE

This workshop provides a general overview of the substances your clients may be using, how to reduce harms, and prevent overdose. Focussing on the drugs learners have questions about, we will explore what the drugs look like, how drugs may present physically and in behaviours, and how to manage withdrawal symptoms. Learners will gain knowledge in how to recognize, prevent and intervene in downer, upper and psychedelic overdoses. Learners will leave the workshop knowing how to use Naloxone to intervene in an opiate overdose. This workshop is adapted for an online setting and includes discussion, visual aids, games and video.

* Learners are encouraged to follow up the workshop with a trip to the drugstore or harm reduction service to get Naloxone.

TARGET GROUP: All

SUBSTANCE USE

SUBSTANCE USE PART 1

This interactive workshop will be of benefit to those with limited knowledge and experience around substance use and serves as an introduction to concepts around substance use that will give participants a common foundation. In this workshop we will cover some core concepts such as the continuum of use, stages of change, routes of administration, and examine how drug use can be unique to each individual when we understand Drug, Set and Setting. We will question why people may or may not use substances and exercises will be used to examine our own attitudes, values and beliefs around drug use and drug users. Finally, we will review some of the most up-to-date research around drug use and touch on specific substances commonly used including how they are used, what they look like, and what risk reduction strategies can be implemented. The goal is to give participants a greater understanding of substance use, so that they are better prepared for other workshops looking at addiction, mental health, harm reduction, and client-centred interactions and approaches.

Learning Objectives:

- Increase knowledge of core concepts around substance use.
- Increase knowledge of current up-to-date research around drug use patterns and trends.
- Increase knowledge of various street and party drugs and their affects.

TARGET GROUP: All

SUBSTANCE USE PART 2

Building on the workshop Introduction to Substance Use, this advanced course examines in more detail treatments and approaches for clients who struggle with substance abuse and process addictions such as gambling, compulsive shopping and hyper sexuality. This course requires participants to have a basic understanding of addiction fundamentals such as withdrawal, tolerance and dependence, and some level of understanding concerning concurrent disorders.

Learning Objectives:

- To develop an understanding of primary evidence-based treatments: cognitive behavioural therapy and contingency management within group work settings.
- To practice motivational interviewing techniques within this model.
- Through case analysis review most complex and challenging clients to develop treatment plan strategies.

SUPERVISOR HEALTH AND SAFETY AWARENESS/ COMPETENCY TRAINING

Under the Occupational Health and Safety Act if any employer is convicted of an offense, they could be subject to a fine up to $500,000. Individuals, if convicted of an offense, can be fined up to $25,000 or jailed for up to one year or both. Under Bill C-45 the new amendment to the Criminal Code, in your organization, all persons who direct how work is performed, or have the authority to do so, are all at risk if they breach the new Occupational Health and Safety duty to take “reasonable steps” to prevent bodily harm in the workplace. Avoid becoming the subject of a criminal charge. This course will enable you to effectively understand the supervisor’s responsibilities for health and safety in the workplace, develop a level of “supervisor competency” as defined under the Act, practice due diligence through training and auditing, notification, reporting and record keeping obligations, documentation, monitoring, feedback and acting to correct health and safety problems, as well as developing an understanding of how to manage work refusals and work stoppages.

Learning Objectives:

Upon completion of the training, participant’s will:

- Know the responsibilities of the workplace parties.
- Identify what is required to enhance their due diligence and the internal responsibility system (IRS).
- Have a broader understanding of the overall legislative framework, including Workplace Violence requirements.
- Understand a Supervisors' obligations as a competent person under the Occupational Health and Safety Act of Ontario (OHSA) and associated Regulations.

TARGET GROUP: Executive Directors, Managers & Supervision

TEAM BUILDING SKILLS

This workshop is designed to support team development from the team members’ perspective. By providing a highly interactive training session, participants will gain better insight and understanding related to:

- ✓ Increasing your understanding of group dynamics and how they impact team development
- ✓ Better insight into how team roles and responsibilities affect team behaviour
- ✓ A variety of strategies to enhance team communication and problem solving
- ✓ Strategies to support individuals to become an effective team member

- ✓ Opportunity to assess individual morale and job satisfaction

Learning Objectives:

- Gain an understanding of the characteristics of well-functioning teams and some of the root causes of team dysfunction.
- Better understanding of the components that go into individual morale and general team morale – supporting a positive team approach.
- Increased awareness of team development, and how to address the issues that arise at each stage of development.
- Gain awareness of their role on a team and understanding the roles of co-workers in support of a positively functioning team.

TORONTO BED BUG INITIATIVE

As bed bugs continue to plague the City of Toronto, various City divisions were successful in lobbying the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care with City Council to provide permanent ongoing funding to help the City's most vulnerable tenants deal with their bed bug issues in rental housing situations. The following presentation gives a comprehensive overview of beds. With a better understanding of their behaviour and habits, you can be successful in getting rid of this nuisance pest. This workshop is of value to everyone who has ever had an encounter with bed bugs. Even if you have never had to deal with bed bugs, we are all at risk of crossing paths with this pest and the more information you have the better equipped you will be to deal with it.

Learning Objectives:

- Participants will learn about bed bug biology and their behaviours.
- Participants will learn how to identify bed bugs and have a better understanding of the places they hide.
- Participants will have a better understanding of the role of Toronto Public Health and what we do in bed bug situations.
- Participants will also learn strategies on prevention, how to deal with infested furniture and how to protect yourself when travelling.
- Participants will learn why the bed bugs are back and how Integrated Pest Management is the most effective way to deal with bed bugs.

TRAUMA INFORMED CARE

TRAUMA INFORMED CARE PART 1

Issues of mental health and trauma are increasingly prevalent in society and impact our relationships with service users and colleagues in the shelter system. A trauma informed lens is essential to providing effective customer support and sustainable service. Participants will develop an understanding of trauma and its impacts and have opportunities to consider what trauma-informed service looks like in the shelter system.

Learning Objectives:

1. Discuss the prevalence and impact of trauma on individuals and communities.
2. Define psychological trauma, single/complex traumas, triggers and attachment theory.
3. Describe the impact of trauma on brain development.
4. Identify the correlation between mental health and trauma and the social determinants of health.
5. Describe approaches for creating trauma informed service relationships in the shelter system.

TARGET GROUP: All

TRAUMA INFORMED CARE PART 2

Building on the theory and science of trauma from Trauma Informed Care Part 1, this session focuses on behaviour and practice and offers strategies and opportunities to consider how to support and work with those who have experienced trauma and are in the shelter system. This workshop uses a framework for supporting service user social-emotional competency, self-management and the enhancement of resilience skills. Participants will have various opportunities to discuss and practice supportive skills for trauma informed service care in the shelter system.

Learning Objectives:

1. Identify how we ‘walk the talk’ and implement trauma informed service within the agency setting.
2. Examine trauma informed recovery principles that emphasize safety and predictability
3. Practice trauma informed principles that increase emotional and physical safety, empowerment and greater resilience.
4. Consider the various components of professional self-care.

UNDERSTANDING CHILD AND ADOLESCENT BEHAVIOUR; LOOKING BEYOND THE BEHAVIOUR

This full-day workshop combines the Children and Adolescent Behaviour Management training and the Adolescent Brain: Practical Guide to Understanding Behaviours and Effective Interventions training. This session will provide participants with an understanding of normative behaviour through a developmental lens, and other Influencing factors on behaviour such as the impact of trauma, biosocial theory, and attachment histories. Participants will be introduced to DBT informed skills to manage emotion dysregulation, ways to improve communication through validation skills, and crisis diversion/interventions skills that include maintaining safety, effective limit setting and working towards changing problematic behaviours. The workshop will provide an interactive opportunity to learn and practice skills to use with children, youth and families such as mindfulness, distress tolerance and emotion regulation.

TARGET GROUP: Staff, Agencies working with families, children and youth

WHMIS (GHS) - 2015

The Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System (WHMIS) provides information on the safe use of hazardous products in Canadian workplaces. This updated WHMIS 2015 training program (which also includes the present WHMIS legislation introduced in 1988), aligns Canada's hazard classification and communication requirements with those used in the United States and other major trading partners, reflecting elements of a United Nations initiative called the Globally Harmonized System (GHS) of Classification and Labelling of Chemicals. Please note, the present WHMIS is now referred to as WHMIS 1988. The updated version is called WHMIS 2015. To allow time for suppliers, employers, and workers to adjust to the new WHMIS 2015 requirements, a multi-year transition plan is in effect from Feb. 2015 to Dec. 2018. However, as products start arriving with the new GHS labels & classifications into the workplace, employers are required to train their workers on WHMIS 2015 requirements.

Learning Objectives:

- Describe what the Globally Harmonized System (GHS) is and how it affects WHMIS.
- Identify the key differences between WHMIS 1988 and WHMIS 2015 requirements.
- Describe hazards associated with WHMIS-regulated products.
- Identify WHMIS hazard classes, symbols and pictograms.
- Identify information types covered on supplier and workplace labels.
- Describe the purpose, content and function of a Safety Data Sheet (SDS).
- Describe hazard controls for WHMIS-regulated products.
- Describe legal rights and duties under WHMIS legislation.

WORKING WITH WOMEN AND CHILDREN WHO HAVE EXPERIENCED INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE

67% of all Canadians say they personally know at least one woman who has been sexually or physically assaulted (Canadian Women’s Foundation, 2012). Moreover, the implications of violence for women and their children are serious: in Canada, it is estimated that a woman is killed by her intimate partner every six days (Statistics Canada, 2011). Recent Ontario research shows that shelters are more than just a bed to women and children fleeing abuse: they are a critical space that provides safety, practical support and links to community services that help them to live free from violence (Wathen for Ontario Association of Interval and Transition Houses, 2012). This one-day training is for professionals, students and volunteers working in family shelter settings. The presenter will provide a brief review of practical ways in which shelter workers and programming can support the complex needs of abused women and children.

Learning Objectives:

- Examine misconceptions and facts about violence against women and children, enhancing workers’ capacity to understand the needs of this population.
- Learn about the emotional, social, financial and community influences that directly or indirectly influence an abused woman’s decision to stay or leave an abusive relationship. Concrete recommendations and skill-building in this area will support shelter workers in responding to these contexts in their work with individual women.
- Learn cross-cultural solutions, strategies and effective interventions for supporting diverse women leaving violence that reflect anti-racist/anti-oppression theory and praxis.
- Learn specific considerations for working with abused trans women and children, as well as women and children fleeing abuse in same-sex relationships.
- Learn specific considerations for working with abused Indigenous women and children.

TARGET GROUP: Staff, Agencies working with families, children and youth

WORKING WITH CORRECTIONS CLIENTELE

In this workshop participants will learn skills in working with the unique needs of corrections clients who are re-entering communities. Often these individuals have difficulty transitioning from a correction setting and may experience difficulty in shelters and in various community settings. Participants will learn what issues are of prominent difficulty for this community and resources that are available to assist helpers in working with the population.

Learning Objectives:

Upon completion of this workshop participants will be able to:

- Learn how the needs of the post corrections population are unique and what puts these clients in particular risk.
- Develop and practice skills in the workshop as an introduction to working with this population in your setting.
- Be provided resources and strategies for connecting these clients to helpful programs and services in the community.

WORKING WITH FAMILIES

Frontline service professionals find themselves working directly or indirectly with families. This one-day workshop is designed to support professionals work in a professional, effective and understanding manner when engaging with families. Working from an empathetic foundation, the workshop explores the specific challenges workers face, instructs on strategies to engage, and offer support to family members and increase sensitivity to family dynamics. From here, the workshop introduces practices for working with families from a trauma-informed approach. This session will provide facilitated instruction, scenarios and case examples; participants should come prepared to share their own examples and challenges. Participants will leave the session with practical approaches ready to implement in their workplaces. This workshop will offer opportunities to engage in group discussion and to address specific challenges.

Learning Objectives:

- Increase understanding of the contexts that may be impacting families
- Working with families: Using an empathetic awareness of these complexities
- Working with families: Using a trauma-informed approach

Increase understanding of Gender-based Violence:

1. What is Gender-based violence?
 2. Impacts of violence
 3. Professional Obligations of Frontline workers
 4. Responding to Abuse: Tips for Responding
- Taking a deeper look: Impacts on immigrant and racialized communities
 - Using a Trauma-informed approach to Gender-based violence
 - Learn cross-cultural solutions, strategies and effective interventions for supporting diverse families that reflect anti-racist/anti-oppression theory and practice
 - Stress, Compassion Fatigue and Burnout: An Integrative Approach to Self-Care for Helping Professionals

TARGET GROUP: Staff, Agencies working with families, children and youth

WORKING WITH INDIVIDUALS WITH ACQUIRED BRAIN INJURY (ABI)

The goal of this workshop is to provide an introduction to increase the understanding of individuals with an acquired brain injury. This workshop will include discussions on the signs, residual effects, severity levels, and the prevalence of brain injuries in the homeless population group. Strategies to manage and support individuals will be reviewed along with the overview of appropriate resources and services within the Toronto area. This workshop is intended for staffs who are interested in gaining competency in supporting individuals who have sustained an acquired brain injury.

Learning Objectives:

- To identify common signs, symptoms of ABI.
- To learn support strategies and available resources for persons with an acquired brain injury.
- To understand how brain injury not only impacts the person who sustained the injury but also individuals immediately involved in their lives.
- To appreciate the cognitive, emotional, physical, and behavioural challenges that individuals with an ABI can be faced with.
